

Penrhys Pilgrimage 2015

Walk the medieval pilgrimage route to Penrhys, Saturday 5 September

- old roads, hollow trails, medieval churches, two holy wells and a
Doctor Who location.

As featured on Weatherman Walking -

<http://downloads.bbc.co.uk/tv/weatherman-walking/walks/Pontypridd-Walk.pdf>

Itinerary and Programme (NOTE - Except for the start time, times are approximate)

- Start at the green near the White Bridge on the Ynysybwl road – OS Map Ref. 077-910 –10 am.
- Walk up the Darran trackway and over to Ynysybwl then up the lovely little valley of the Llys Nant and over the fields to Mynachdy.
- Through the forest to Llanwynno – refreshments in the church or time for a pub lunch. Walk down to look at the recently-restored holy well of St Gwynno.
- Set off again from Llanwynno at about 2 pm, walk down the track to Stanleytown and Pontyrhaiarn then up to Penrhys. Time to explore another holy well, up to the estate church for tea (about 4 – 4.30) and a visit to the church itself as part of the Open Doors weekend.

You can join us at the start or at Llanwynno – the church there will be open from 12 noon – 1.30 as part of the Open Doors weekend. If you want lunch in the Brynffynnon pub it might be as well to book – tel. 01443 790272. We hope to arrange transport back from the finish for those who have left their cars, and there is also plenty of public transport.

This is like a medieval pilgrimage – there is no official organisation behind it. We can provide the route and arrange some stops on the way, but the rest is up to you. You will need to be reasonably fit, and you will need weatherproof clothing, stout walking boots and suitable refreshment. We can take no responsibility for the welfare of participants.

More information: maddy@heritagetortoise.co.uk